

You'll never get it right
You'll never get it right
You're never gonna get it right
You're never gonna get it right
You try to make the most of your time
But then you pick apart every piece of yourself
And your first mistake becomes your new way
So everyone after that you just [?]
So keep it on the inside
So keep it on the inside
So keep it on the inside
It's better off left there
It's better off left there anyway

You struggle for the same goal
And live in the same home
Except with a little less time
Another bright future is in the past
But either way you're glad to be last
The train, it came and left without you
A piece of mind you left within you
So keep it on the inside
So keep it on the inside
So keep it on the inside
It's better off left there

It's all right there in front of your face
But you just don't see it
[?]
And truth is true, you know this much
But you don't believe it
Should I?
Should I?

Keep it on the inside
(You take, you take)
Keep it on the inside
(You take, you take)
Keep it on the inside
(You take, you take)
Keep it on the inside
