

Waiting

Middle Class Rut

I see a sign and it's telling me you're traveling the wrong way
I see the sunlight disappear bringing an end to another day
I see a sense of reality come at me all at once
I don't want it back, it's yours to keep
Take what you got and just keep moving

Everything's so difficult, the easy things you can not see
Everything's impossible, the problems left all for me
Everything's so critical, which one should I solve first?
I don't want it back, it's yours to keep
Take what you got and I'll be waiting

Well, I won't spend yet another day waiting!!

I see the clock and it's telling me you're time's about to run out
I see the second hand ticking away, just circling around
I see the face of reality attack me all at once
I don't want it back, it's yours to keep
Take what you got, and just keep moving

AND JUST KEEP MOVING, C'MON!!!

She's in line to give her path to me
And I am there to accept'em for me

And if I could take back one thing in this life,
It would be the day that I met YOUUU!! C'MON!!

I finished last in a race that I could no longer run
Sometimes I sit and wait for the sun to bring up a new day
And we all agree that that day's every day!

WAITING!!
WAITING!!
WAITING!!
