

Northern Light

Midnattsol

In a time where I was standing on the edge on a hill that could lead to eternity Abandoned in a world in vain where every movement strengthened the exhausting pains

In a time where the days were like nights
And the night was like a storm filled day
Was empty of sacrifice all I own But then I recognized
The existence of your delicious light

A shiver in my chest Energy in my wrists
I sought and found your warmth
After the river I cried when you left me that night
Your karma so colorful So strong it embraces me I just want to be where you are
And hold your flames so tight
Inside
Northern light

The resistance of your shield keeps the negative sensations away And only your affection penetrates my shell

A present sent from our mother earth
In a time where only bleeding hearts exist In a cloudless secret sky you shiver out magic green crystals so bright
Northern light
