Genius And The Tramp

There are some things that you never want to see Situations that you struggle to believe Now youDre older and I am older too There are some things that you said youDd never do But we both know thatDs not entirely true You did them, didnDt we do them together?

So where did you go? What do you know? You can t hide your head in the clouds forever What did we say about drifting away? We said it won t happen to us, now wellre too clever Well I guess we weren t that clever

Piece is moving, made the picture fall apart So you take them and go back to the start Well it leaves you, wondering what you began with There were chances that you never seemed to take Opportunities were handed on a plate So you sit there, waiting for fortune to find you

So where did you go? What do you know? You canDt hide your head in the clouds forever What did we say about drifting away? We said it wonDt happen to us cause weDre too clever Well I guess we werenDt that clever after all

So where did you go? What do you know? You can thide your head in the clouds forever What did we say about drifting away? We said it won thappen to us cause we too clever Well I guess we re not that clever after all

You can thide your head in the clouds forever You can thide your head in the clouds forever It won thappen to us cause wellre too clever You can t put your head in your hands forever
