

This Heart

Miles Away

This life is a battle but I will never give in
You try to bring me down
But I will stand strong, armed with hope
This mind free of your constraints
Never to think like you
Destroying all in your path
I can't live like that, I never will
This heart will never die
This mind you can't fuckin' buy
Growing stronger, never give in
The life is a struggle
You try your best, never good enough
For them the faceless
Dragging you down every fucking day
Conform or pay the price
But I will never give in
Not like that you won't, tear me down
This heart will never die
