

Sober

Mindy Smith

Tonight I'm a orphan, tonight I'm no one
Tonight I'm a stranger, with a stolen gun
Don't make me smile, it's not what I'm after
I came here tonight, with a taste for disaster

I can't escape, you keep bringing me here
I tried sober, but I can't get you out of my head
It's over, but I can't get you out of my head

I'll trade this heartbreak pain for a hammer on my brain
Don't put it on ice, don't pour me no hope
Don't want nothing in my glass that's gonna float
I'll shoot em straight, cuz I'm bullet proof
Don't wanna warm buzz, just the cold hard truth

I should be laughing and living and loving myself instead
I tried sober, but I can't get you outta my head

When I finally come around,
When I left myself be found
I'll reach my higher ground
