Special Death

A terrible mistake was made The weight would break the backs of 10 strong horses tried to s ave The castle in the fray If you knew, that I could take the pain Inflicted at the battle With faithful arrows You might get back in the saddle But It's a special death you saved For me the brown eyed daughter Once you made it hotter The thankless holy praise Is left alone why bother To cast a stone in water La la

Mirah