Land of the Dead

A fortress in the sky What's left of life it holds

We live on borrowed time

Along a glowing moonlit pier Their armies still advance From the murky depths, they rise

From their rotting bones

Their souls, they scream For the flesh they need

Tonight, zombies walk Upon the earth

Land of the dead

Massive flames arise

They burn out of control In the slums, it's genocide

Evolved, they find a way inside Those who could escape

Have no chance to survive

From their rotting bones Their souls, they scream For the flesh they need

Tonight, zombies walk Upon the earth Land of the dead

The Misfits