

How the Story Ends

Miss Fortune

How much would it take
To find where we went wrong?
I've made all these mistakes
When you're here and when you're gone

And I never thought that we
Would end up this way
And I never thought we'd try for this long
But now it's time to say
I thought we were done

I can't explain the reason
Why I'm always leaving
You don't know the meaning
Of drifting through this life
I can't explain the reason
Why I'm always leaving
You don't know the meaning
Of drifting through this life

How much would it take
To find where we went wrong?
I've made all these mistakes
When you're here and when you're gone

And I never thought that we
Would end up this way
And I never thought we'd try for this long
But now it's time to say
I thought we were done
But I know where I belong

I can't explain the reason
Why I'm always leaving
You don't know the meaning
Of drifting through this life
I can't explain the reason
Why I'm always leaving
You don't know the meaning
Of drifting through this life

I'm the one that's made a fool
Taking accountability for things that you do
I'm the one that's made a fool
Taking accountability for things that you do
I'm the one that's made a fool
Taking accountability for things that you do
I'm the one that's made a fool
Taking accountability for things that you do

I can't explain the reason
Why I'm always leaving
You don't know the meaning
Why I'm always leaving
You don't know the meaning

Of drifting through this life

But I'm the one that's made a fool
Taking accountability for things that you do
I'm the one that's made a fool
Taking accountability for things that you do

(I can't explain the reason)
(Why I'm always leaving)
Drifting through this life
