

Surrender

Miss Fortune

In a hotel room
Doing things I never know of
I lack thereof a true love in you
No, not this time
It's a victimless crime breaking through
I'll get through to you

One mistake
Could end everything
While I'm leading the way out of view
I'm leading the way out of you

Lately, I can't remember
If we're going somewhere
Seems we're heading nowhere
Why can't you see?
Now it's time to surrender
Try not to be bitter
It'll be this December you tried to leave

A little white wine
Try to find the time
I've been hearing it through the grapevine
You're heading to the west coastline
My oh my, running out of time

Trying so hard not to be afraid
I've never been one to meet halfway
If given the chance, I'll be okay
If I can just find the words to say

If I have a say in this fight
You bet on your life
I won't wanna meet halfway
Welcome to the daylight
Stay out of my sight
And everything will be okay

Lately, I can't remember
If we're going somewhere
Seems we're heading nowhere
Why can't you see?
Now it's time to surrender
Try not to be bitter
It'll be this December you tried to leave

In a hotel room
Doing things I never know of
I lack thereof a true love in you

But if I have a say in this fight
You bet on your life
I won't wanna meet halfway
Welcome to the daylight
Stay out of my sight
And everything will be okay

Lately, I can't remember
If we're going somewhere
Seems we're heading nowhere
Why can't you see?
Now it's time to surrender
Try not to be bitter
It'll be this December you tried to leave
You tried to leave