I left my body the other day And reached my inner feel Dreams and hopes for a better way In space where faith is real

I find the answers behind the moon Light years from my birth I'm sure my love will follow soon Will leave her place on earth

I jumped off the wall And stared at the sun

It's time
For a new horizon
My spirit is spread in the air
The place where
My dreams are rising
Is worth to be handled with care

Lost in space we see the light And let out spirit free Warm the days and cold the night It's good to stay with me

I jumped off the wall And stared at the sun I'm leaving the hall And started...

Because of
A new horizon
Your spirit is spread in the air
The place where
Your dreams are rising
Is worth to be handled with care
