

For so long you've been hurt
Livin' your life telling lies
Can't explain all the pain on the inside
You have learned how to cry
You have learned how to smile
Learned how to read and write
No one knows what it's like
You don't know what it's like
No one knows what it's like
You surely know that the price of life is high

The choice is yours
You can take your life
You can fight for something more
The coice is yours
You can take your life for nothing more

Some might say you don't know who you really are Until you come close to passin' on
Now you've got three scars to prove
So far how close you have come
No one knows what it's like
You don't know what it's like
No one knows what it's like
You surely know that the price of life is high

The choice is yours
You can take your life
You can fight for something more
The coice is yours, you can take your life for nothing more

Keep breathin', keep breathin'
Hold on, hold on
I would never let you go and die in my arms
No, no, no, I won't

The choice is yours
You can take your life
You can fight for something more
The choice is yours, you can take your life
You can fake your life, you can take your life
You can fake your life for nothing more
