

It's not fair. All is wrong, again.
I'm not right; content with regret.
And it's so late. And I'm so tired, again.
Yet, wide awake. Forget what you said...

Catch me wasting away, or whatever.
Spend all my time, confined to home.
Forget what you said, why bother?
I'll never forget you said...

This is all so surreal.
What is this place?
So many mirrored faces,
But not a single name.

And "it's alright", I sing it everyday;

One thousand times, one thousand ways.

Catch me wasting away, or whatever.
Spend all my time, confined to home.
Forget what you said, why bother?
I'll never forget you said
"You'll be face to face with forever,
If you spend all your time alone.
Do you remember what you said when we met?
I'll never forget you said."

You and I were made to feel this way,
When worlds collide will you be there with me?
