

I Guess I Had A Real Good Time Last Night

Moe Bandy

I woke up this morning feeling like I never felt before
My head aches my eyes are red and I hurt places I ain't hurt before
Though I don't remember I really don't believe I had a fight
But I've got all the sentence so I guess I had a real good time last night

When I opened my eyes I can't believe the first thing that I see
A woman who's a stranger layin' there and starin' back at me
She said hello honey did she ask me if I'm gonna be alright
It's then I knew without a doubt I had myself a real good time
last night

I don't know how or where I went and I should don't remember what I done
But by the way she's smilin' now I really must have had a lot of fun
If I can just recall her name I'm almost sure the things will be alright
I'm telling you it must be true I had myself a real good time last night

It must've been just step to ten when she finally got me out of bed
I had a small construction crew working with the chains all in my head
Then I saw in my left hand a wedding band shining in the light
It was then I realized I had myself a real good time last night
It was then I realized I had myself a real good time last night
