

Rule By Secrecy

Molotov Solution

Heavy lies the crown of the treacherous king, the self appointed monarch of society

His subservient drones do his bidding, blindly manipulated under his decree

A thousand global elite meeting in secrecy, politicians and corporate kings of a false monarchy

Clandestine pacts and treaties, that's not democracy, just their plan for control, villainizing you and me

We are the enemy

To those who rule by secrecy

We are the enemy

To those who rule by secrecy

Today he controls the six billion members of the human community not with force, but through deceit and secrecy

We are the enemy

To the corrupt makers of policy and international bankers that seek to profit off of our slavery

We are the enemy

To those who rule by secrecy

It's time to overthrow the king

Death to the king!

A thousand global elite meeting in secrecy, politicians and corporate kings of a false monarchy

Clandestine pacts and treaties, that's not democracy, just their plan for control, villainizing you and me

He is the father of murderers and thieves, the power hungry, the clandestine

Heavy lies the crown of the treacherous king, the self appointed monarch of society

His subservient drones do his bidding, blindly manipulated under his decree

Heavy lies the crown of the treacherous king, the self appointed monarch of society

His subservient drones do his bidding, blindly manipulated under his decree

Their treachery knows no bounds, a monarchy of tainted crowns
Protected by the dark they conspire, secret societies that built an empire

This is more than just a question of whether or not their war is upon us

It is where we draw the line; make the sacrifice to save our lives.

To save our liberties?

We, we are the enemy!

Death to the king!

We, we are the enemy!

Death to the king!

This is more than just a question of whether or not their war

is upon us

Draw the line; make the sacrifice to save our lives.

To save our liberties?
