

Broken Promises

Moments In Grace

So I've blown
Blown it all on cures for pain and I've learned
To regret the choices
That I've made. I want
Want to stay awake for days
'til the sunlight washes over my face.

Forgive, forget, all of our broken promises.
Forgive, forget, all of our broken promises.
We run, run, run to lose it all.

These days are darker and they draw me in.
I left, a trail, but no one missed me.
In the end I'll blend
Blend in with a shade I've been,
But where should I begin,
If I want to learn to

Forgive, forget, all of our broken promises.
Forgive, forget, all of our broken promises.
We run, run, run to lose it all.

I felt a chill in the air and you turned as I said your name.
A glance turned to stare and you hardly knew my face,
A blank page, an empty safe, things will never be the same.

Forgive, forget, all of our broken promises.
Forgive, forget, all of our ...
Forgive, forget, all of our broken promises.
Forgive, forget, all of our broken promises.
We run, run, run, run
We run, run, run, run to lose it all