Like a Military Coup

Morcheeba

When the tower tumbled We began anew Had no time for warning Only déjà vu

It comes flashing back
Then just fades to black
All gone

All the land rejoices Now the coast is clear No more silent voices To whisper in your year

I am in my element With a panoramic view There's no inspiration like A military coup

Children blowing kisses Strangers to the truth Carrying the wishes Of a bygone youth

Bye-bye cabaret Sci-fi agony All gone

All the land rejoices Now the coast is clear No more silent voices To whisper in your ear

I am in my element
With a panoramic view
There's no compensation like
A military coup

A mellow melody Rolling endlessly How long? How long? How long?
