

Where Insanity Rules

Morgana Lefay

Do they listen to what you say do you care about decisions they make do you want them to rule the game they decide and you have to o bey
They rule the world but in fact they are insane what's going on in their empty brains their conclusions and philosophy does it really bo ther me
It's a political chaos where insanity rules What the fuck do they know about the reality show can they see anything at all from behind those walls They make the rules for you to follow what's going on in their empty brains
prohibitions and depreciations does it really bother me It's a political chaos...
They live like kings with diamond rings I weep the poor with their broken dreams I can't believe that it's for real their life of ease is someth ing that I can't feel all the money they make on their political mi stakes
They make the rules for you to follow what's going on in their
empty brains
they make it worse for the common beings and that really bother s me
It's a political chaos...
