

Welcome home, don't turn away, look me in the eyes
Do you know where you are, why you're here
I sense the tension building up in your head
Your cells extract the scent of fear

What you're believing
To be the depths of being
Has been my voice all along
The spaces of your mind
You thought no one could find
The tempting will to do wrong

The dreams that haunt your nights
The notion of what's right

I'm forever within you

Free will, a delicate plan
To try the strength of man
You've played your part in the game
We'll put you back in place
A memory erase
Your nature's easy to tame

Mastering the test
The face you have suppressed

I'm forever within you
Thought control
I'm the eyes that you see through

I'm forever within you
Thought control
I'm the eyes that you see through
I'm your soul
I'm your soul
