

Crawl Inside

Morta Skuld

Drained of all emotion
As daylight fades
As I crawl inside myself
Have we lost our way?

As black and white
Turns to grey
Within the shadows of our minds
This is the test of power
As our life slips away

Endless wars still remain
As their rage turns toward you

You have lost all
That you once controlled

Time can't heal
All my wounds
That dwell inside
Scarred beyond all reality

Drained of all emotion
As daylight fades

Within the shadows of our minds
As our dreams fill our skies

You have lost all
That you once controlled
