

Go To California

Motorpsycho

there is no tomorrow,there's only now and when you think about it so much left to do you can have kisses by the millions...

get up, go to california, go to where the skies are blue
move on there are no exceptions,the world is turning tricks for you
and when you think about it so much left to do you can have kisses by the millions if you want to...

some stall,some can't get their bearings,some can never move on time
don't think,never fret or worry,life will not leave you behind
there is no tomorrow,there's only now
and when you think about it so much left to do you can have kisses by the millions if you want to...

some dream too much
some dreams turn into nightmares too all dream,but not a single soul wasted time and stayed content
get up, go to california!
get up, go to california!!

get up,go to california,go to where the skies are blue move on there are no exceptions,the world is turning
some dream too much
some dreams turn into nightmares too
content
and when you think about it so much left to do you can have kisses by the millions if you want to...
get up, go to california!
get up, go to california!!
