

When You're Dead

Motorpsycho

I watch you show the profusion of colours your petals bestow in fragrant flares all through the night
'till daybreak turns from blue to bright

let me know now
is it now or is it never
is it for real or is it forever ?

strangeness yet to come leaves have died and grown back on with earth we bury when tired of strife from earth we came into this life so when you see me fall apart won't you help me up and guide me back to start? even in my dreams when I am in doubt oh, Lord won't you help me when I am down and out ?

no colours seem right they faded out into the night who will turn the light back on, when darkness turns from black to wrong?
let me know now
is it for real or is it forever ?
is it now or is it never
is it for real or is it forever ?
is it for real or is it forever ?

everything is great when you're dead your family surrounds you, there are flowers in your bed everything is just like they said...
I like lying down just to feel it.
