

The Fall Of Goliath

Mozart Season

I'm not walking on air,
I'm not walking on eggshells behind you.
Life doesn't work that way!
And there's something to be
Said for second chances but to me,
You've destroyed everything!

Well shut your mouth,
And save your sob story.
Well didn't you hear?
The city's ignoring you!?
Goliath, step down!
The blow of David's stone
Was too much for you to take.

I'm not walking on air,
I'm not walking on eggshells behind you.
Life doesn't work that way!
And there's something to be
Said for second chances but to me,
You've destroyed everything!

It's not a question of where or how,
But when you will fall!

We all can forget you.
No, you're nothing special.
You've turned this into more than you could ever handle.
I think that you should leave now,
Just pack your shit and leave now.
But first I think that you might want to...
You better sit down for this!

'Cause oh God; I hate to be the bearer...
I hate to be the bearer...
I hate to be the bearer...
I hate to be the bearer of bad news!
Open your eyes,
Look up to the sky,
And just breathe!
And pray to the gods,
That forgiveness will
Be waiting!

I'm not walking on air,
I'm not walking on eggshells behind you.
Life doesn't work that way!
And there's something to be
Said for second chances but to me,
You've destroyed everything!
