That Crown Don't Make You A Prince

Murder by Death

All the drunks in the alleys are takin' up arms to undo their w hole lives in a day If their hearts they don't change before long in the heart of t he beast they will lay

He peels the wood from the walls to get to us He steals the good from this town

So wash the black from your fingertips And give in Give in Give in Raise up from the cellars Fill the streets with his dead This time This time This time.
