

Seen It All

Mushroomhead

Rig the game, we're still playing to win
Thrust upon the precipice of virtue and sin
In pursuit of our dreams, sidestepping the screams
As we navigate this wonderful life

Rig the game, we're still playing to win
Thrust upon the precipice of virtue and sin
In pursuit of our dreams, sidestepping the screams
As we navigate this wonderful life

Downpours and waterfalls
So wonderful to see it all
Downpours and waterfalls
So wonderful until we've seen it all

These scars unite us
These ties that bind us
Tethered together
Forever we weather the storm
The blood of the righteous
This flood will define us
The bruised, the battered
The tattered and the torn

Darkest days evaporating
Waiting for the rain to bring your

Downpours and waterfalls
So wonderful to see it all
Downpours and waterfalls
So wonderful until we've seen it all

These scars unite us
These ties that bind us
Tethered together
Forever we weather the storm
The blood of the righteous
This flood will define us
The bruised, the battered
The tattered and the torn

Darkest days evaporating
Waiting for the rain to bring your

Downpours and waterfalls
So wonderful to see it all
Downpours and waterfalls
So wonderful until we've seen it all

Don't say to me, don't say we're home
Don't say to me we're all alone
Refuse to kneel to their throne
Refuse to fade into the unknown

Downpours and waterfalls
So wonderful to see it all

So wonderful until we've seen it all

(Until we've seen it all)

(Until we've seen it all)

(Until we've seen it all)

Until we've seen it all

(Until we've seen it all)

(Until we've seen it all)

(Until we've seen it all)

Until we've seen it all
