

Inquiring Minds Want to Know

MxPx

How you feel depends on what you think about What you need depends on what you can't live without How you act goes right back to the way you feel
What you see isn't always what is real
So where do we go? And what do we do?
You're asking me and I'm asking you
To be real with yourself and don't play the game of daily life, it's all the same
The way you think depends on what you're going thru
What you create comes from deep inside of you
What you know makes the difference in what you hate What you love depends on how you relate inquiring minds want to know.
