

Reckoning

My Ruin

Woke up today and saw our life flash right before our eyes
Were left for dead but once again from ashes we will rise
The truth will set us free and when it does make no mistake
We've died a million times and we're too strong for you to break

So arrogant your power trip let's you believe you're right
So sick inside your egotistic twisted little mind
You're just another motherfucker and a lesson learned
This is our reckoning, you've said enough now it's our turn

Woke up today and saw the light flash right before our eyes
We're done with all your poor excuses and your dirty lies
The world will know the man is nothing but a little bitch
We've burned another bridge and this time we don't give a shit

So arrogant your power trip let's you believe you're right
So sick inside your egotistic twisted little mind
You're just another motherfucker and a lesson learned
This is our reckoning, you've said enough now it's our turn

We gave you everything but nothing we gave was enough
Now we no longer trust you and you no longer know us
We gave you everything but nothing we gave was enough
Pretend we don't exist but you know what you did to us

So arrogant your power trip let's you believe you're right
So sick inside your egotistic twisted little mind
You're just another motherfucker and a lesson learned
This is our reckoning, you've said enough now it's our turn!
