

Missing You

MYMP

Miss you...

Everyday and every night, this feeling I'd fight
Try as I might but I won't win, I surrender, I'd die
You are winning here alright

Every morning when the sun would shine on me
I'd flash a smile but deep inside
I feel so sad and lonely
I need you here and now

I miss you
It's crazy to pretend that I don't think of you
The more this feeling just seems to grow and grow

I miss you
Oh how much longer can I hold on to
Maybe you can come and tell me that you miss me too

Miss you...

All I want is for this love to last forever
You walked away, never came back, oh I tried to recover
I can't bear it boy alright

When I hear a song that we had used to share
I'll try as I might to hide the tears, and when the pain is over
I'll wish that you are near

I miss you
It's crazy to pretend that I don't think of you
The more this feeling just seems to grow and grow
I miss you
Oh how much longer can I hold on to
Maybe you can come and tell me that you miss me too

Miss you
