

Silent Cries

Myrath

then you came, like in my dreams, tenderly.
Your whispers echoed in my heart
which I thought dead.
With you I'm feeling warm.
I'm alive when you hold my hand!

Hold my hand and get me out
from that hole in the dark.
Let me see that gleam of light,
let it shine on my heart.

Lost in the dark with no fears,
no stars above, no one to love.
Tears come, run down my face
and they fade as they fall.
I heard you call, called my name.

To hold my hand, bring me back to life
Yes, now I'm alive, back to the real world.
Now I'm feeling better
When you're by my side, I don't need to hide.

I reached the bottom, you brought me back
When I was drowning, you were in my mirror
just before I closed my eyes.

Just before I closed my eyes
I reached the bottom, you brought me back.
When I was drowning, you were in my mirror.
It's your face I've seen shining down on me like dimes.

I feel the fever inside my soul
Burning desire, deep inside my heart.
Now try to breathe, just find some space.
You are my last chance, my only way out.
When you talk to me, when you hold my hand...

Hold my hand and get me out
from that hole in the dark.
Let me see that gleam of light,
let it shine on my heart.
