

Before The Dawn

Mystery

She wakes up with the morning rise
And leaves all dreams behind
The same world offered to her eyes
Wishing to escape before the night

It's cold outside, the leaves have fallen
She wanders in the park
She often goes there when she's crying
She sits and thinks for hours until it's dark
Yet she always comes back home

Tired of living by their rules
Avoids to meet their angry eyes
She promised to no more be their fool
They ask, she quickly finds an alibi
Then she wonders why oh why...

She has the will, she has the right,
The freedom to decide
It's somewhere locked within her mind
Sometimes they see that spark
Shinning in her eyes

They don't realize...

Time will come for her to try
To lead another life
Struggling hard she will survive
They'll keep on erasing all of her desires
Yet she won't believe their lies... No!

Run now... It's time
To pack your things and leave now
Nothing will change your mind
And you know!
If you run, run before the dawn

Run now... It's time
Don't look back just leave, leave now
Nothing can change your mind
If you run, run before the dawn

If you run before the dawn
If you run before the dawn
Run before the dawn

The dawn

Time is at hand
You know what you've got to do
And you ain't gonna put with
Come on

No more lies, no more rules
You're got to run
Before the dawn breaks through
You've got to, you've got to

You've got to run!
You've got to run!
