

The Murder Manifesto

Naglfar

Possessed by the blazing aurora
Reborn under the fullmoon light
Hate boils in my veins tonight
I have wrapped myself with anger
And pursued you, killing without pity... I do

I've armed myself with all the strength of hell
And no prayers will pass through

When all my enemies are crushed under my feet
When human rights are perverted
In the presence of my nonloving form
Your chosen breed is deserted
I bring the gospel of the cleansing death
Your unawareness disturbs me
I always move like a thief in the night
When I move in on you
As I murder you

This is for the sins of your prophets
And the iniquities of your priests
Who shed the blood of righteous
And tarnished our blackened beliefs

When all my enemies are crushed under my feet
When human rights are perverted
In the presence of my nonloving form
Your chosen breed is deserted
I bring the gospel of the cleansing death
Your unawareness disturbs me
I always move like a thief in the night
When I move in on you
As I murder you
