Your Love, My Love

Nana Mouskouri

In a world as changeable as skies above Where the eagle all too often overtakes the dove There is one thing in this life we can be certain of Your love my love

Nation fights with nation Everyday somewhere But through every situation We will not dispair For we know that our salvation Is the gift we share Your love my love

Lock me desert me I'll get by love Now you're my love Nothing can hurt me Now I'm sure of your love

When our castles crumble when our dreams take flight And we sometimes find it hard to face the morning light There is one thing that will see us through the darkest night Your love my love

I will never fear what fate may have in store For with every passing year I love you more and more And as long as I'm alive I will be living for Your love my love

Lock me desert me I'll get by love Now you're my love Nothing can hurt me Now I'am sure your love

In a world where peace and harmony are strange And whatever dreams our destiny may rearrange There is one thing on this earth that time will never change Your love my love Your love our love
