

Nina Never Knew

Nancy Wilson

Girls were made to kiss, but Nina never knew
Girls are born for this, but Nina never knew
Sweet surprise filled Nina's eyes
She did not understand when he kissed her hand
Why dreams began to stir deep down inside of her
When he whispered things that Nina never heard
Nina's heart took wings with every tender word
Then suddenly, so suddenly she learned to love somehow
And he's so glad that Nina never knew till now.

Then suddenly, so suddenly she learned to love somehow
And he's so glad that Nina never knew till now.
