

Reflect on Conflict

Napalm Death

Something to prove, something to say
Feeling secure, a false portrait
Forging alone that facts unknown
Hiding the truth to drag us on
Trapping the standpoint
Focal disjoint
More to protect than to reject
Reflect the conflict inside
Punish the core, the more unsure
Testing the strength of us once more
Peeling away the scab to bleed
Feeling again the growing need
Accept the consequences
Unlike our differences
Shameless and painless - reflect on conflict
Hateful, resentful - reflect on conflict
