

Stubborn Stains

Napalm Death

"No" is the utterance duly strangled by omnipotence Dire comebacks call a halt to any visions of furtherance

Doggedly scoured away like a stubborn stain

For I am a product inferior to inferior product
I am snarled in the links of your supply chains

Malcontent
Left to spread
Treat as stubborn stains

Of molestation and machinery and man No molestations in those quirky ad campaigns

I am long pinned down You'll find me under buildings and your tawdry, hateful malpractice
I am long pinned down
I am the invisible smear on your sorely tempting price tag
And as perishable as your product,
I can just be thrown away
I am the invisible smear

Treat as stubborn stains

Spurious lament Without a neck to hang their corporate heads in shame They will breeze on through quite unscathed
Turn a profit and turn away

Of molestation and machinery and man
Short-lived stubborn stain
