

Rose And Thorn

Nashville Cast

Like a bird in the sky
I'm not afraid, afraid to fly
Though I don't know where I'm gonna land
And people go and people change
Harder things have come my way
And still I find it hard to understand

When everything has come undone
Hearts will race, hearts will run
And when they break we're always taking cover
And here we are wanting more
You and I, rose and thorn
But I don't really wanna love another
We have each other

Waters deep as we fall
It's hard to breathe beneath it all
And feel my hand reaching out for you
If fate looked like an hourglass
And you and I were made to last
Would we still be lost in the blue?

When everything has come undone
Hearts will race, hearts will run
And when they break we're always taking cover
And here we are wanting more
You and I, rose and thorn
But I don't really wanna love another
We have each other
We have each other
