Backyard

Natasha Bedingfield

It's been too long
Don't think I've seen you smile at me for quite a while
And we're too busy doing things
We haven't noticed what's missing
Where's the fun we used to have?
My childish ways and your sarcasm
Silly jokes and fairy tales
Where did we leave them?

Lost in the backyard Your lasso my tiara My wand, your plastic bazooka Why can't we be how we were In the backyard

Your cowboy hat, my tutu You hide and seek, I catch you Why can't we be how we were in the backyard In the backyard

Simple days of hand in hand And drawing our names in the sand Somehow life just complicates Our buried treasure it just waits Lost in the backyard

Lost in the backyard Your lasso my tiara My wand, your plastic bazooka Why can't we be how we were In the backyard

Your cowboy hat, my tutu
You hide and seek, I catch you
Why can't we be how we were in the backyard
In the backyard

Lost you in the backyard

You can still meet me in the garden You and I and hide behind the rose bed You and I You and I Lost in the backyard again

Your lasso my tiara My wand, your plastic bazooka Why can't we be how we were In the backyard

Your cowboy hat, my tutu You hide and seek, I catch you Why can't we be how we were in the backyard In the backyard
