

I'll Remember You

Nathan Sykes

Long gone are the days of you making me feel so complete
You were my queen you wore the crown
Long gone are the nights that your fire brought me to my knees
You no longer burn me down

There was a time, we ruled and we reigned
The whole world was ours, we swore we'd never change
But all that we built, came crumbling down
We loved and we lust, no turning back around, 'round now
But you should know

I'll remember you
I'll remember you
And even if, I found another you
I'll remember you

Long live the lessons I learnt from you walking away, hey
Now I'm a better man
Long live the hope that I find someone like you again, baby
Hope she loves me like you can

There was a time, we ruled and we reigned
The whole world was ours, we swore we'd never change
But all that we built, came crumbling down
We loved and we lust, no turning back around, 'round now
Baby!

I'll remember you (oh, oh babe)
I'll remember you (oh)
And even if, I found another you
I'll remember you

I'll remember, every touch
Night after night, never could get enough
Not for your lips, every kiss
Baby tell me that you remember this
You remember, every touch
Night after night, never could get enough
Not for your lips, every kiss
'cause baby I'll always remember this
(I'll remember you)

I'll remember you
I'll remember you (you know that I'll remember you baby)
And even if, I found another you (ah yeah! babe)
I'll remember you (I'll say it again yeah)

I'll remember you
I'll remember you
And even if, I found another you
I'll remember you

And even If, I found another you
Oh I'll remember you
