

Blew Me Away

Natural

Left out in the cold darkness surrounds me
I'm tired and all alone this is not how I choose to be
I walk a lonely road to escape from reality
On my Own

I look the other way to forget about what you did to me
What happened to the day you swore that you'd never leave
You used to say that we could do almost anything
But now you're gone

All I ever wanted was a life both of us
All that I could be was just never enough
So you walked out on me

You blew me away
Now you're gone with your promise to never change
Left too much to explain
You threw me away right out of your life

I head out towards the sun
Cuz I know where there's a brighter day
I'll find another love
I can see it's not far away
Can't help but smile about the life that's in front of me
On my own

All I ever wanted was a life both of us
All that I could be was just never enough
So you walked out on me

You blew me away
Now you're gone with your promise to never change
You threw me away right out of your life

Wonder if I saw you
Would you look me in the eyes

Is there nothing left of
The one who changed my state of mind

All I ever wanted was a life both of us
All that I could be was just never enough
So you walked out on me

Left with nothing to say ... you blew me away ... right out of your life
