

Why It Hurts

Natural

I can breathe without air
I can close my eyes and go anywhere
If I can dream it
I can make it come true
With all that I can do
Why can't I have you

I can walk on the moon
Cause I'm not afraid to wish that far
But I still can't reach the place where you are
I stumble in the dark
Tryin' to figure out your heart

I chase you, I face you, I give it all
But loving you is a blessing and a curse
It could have been something beautiful
But you never really tried to make it work
And that's why it hurts

I love looking at you
When you walk in you can light up the room
But there's a darkness in you nobody sees
It's a cold reality
And the shadow falls on me

I chase you, I face you, I give it all
But loving you is a blessing and a curse
It could have been something beautiful
But you never really tried to make it work
And that's why it hurts

Once you used to lift me
But now you let me down
The silence leaves me nothing left to say
The touch that felt so perfect
That made you so afraid
Now the truth it makes you wanna run away

That's why it hurts
Cause I can't have you
That's why it hurts
Yeah

I chase you, I face you, I give it all
But loving you is a blessing and a curse
It could have been something beautiful
But instead you just refuse me
And now you gonna lose me
Cause you never really tried to make it work
And that's why it hurts
That's why it hurts, ooh no
That's why it hurts
(I can breathe without air)
(I can walk on the moon)
Yeah, yeah
(With all I can do)
(I still can't have you)

That's why it hurts
(I can breathe without air)
(I can walk on the moon)
Yeah, yeah
(With all I can do)
(I still can't have you)
That's why it hurts
(I can breathe without air)
That's why it hurts
(I can walk on the moon)
That's why it hurts
(With all I can do)
(I still can't have you)
