Tools of Greed

We are the weeping mass Born into emptiness Abandoned in the center of your disregard

Tempted by hope to escape from despair Naivety led us To fall for your charms

Blinded by the light of your false illusions We walked in vicious circles Into our doom

From a place where nothing is at ease We pray for the aftermath As we dwell in perpetual gloom

Spirits numb with fear These voices laugh no more Whispers to deafened ears These crying eyes are sore

We are the ruling class Your woeful inexistence Is the essence of our lies

We turn your hopes to chaos With blind precision We dissect your minds

Your loss is our gain You are tools of our greed We turn your seconds to hours

We sacrifice your empty shells To our false gods Helplessly devoured
