Whenever

Nemesea

If I could tell you
That you're the only one to blame
It doesn't matter 'cos you wouldn't change
'Cos you don't listen
And you don't even feel ashamed
So I don't feel the need to point your way

One day you'll see it's not meant to be

Whenever you're sorry you just make up a story
'Cos you can't admit that you were wrong
Whenever you're sorry you just make up a story
And I saw it coming all along

And you keep saying
That you don't want to live like this
But then you go on like you always do
And when I listen to all the foolish things you say
I just feel the need to walk away

One day you'll see it's not meant to be

Whenever you're sorry you just make up a story
'Cos you can't admit that you were wrong
Whenever you're sorry you just make up a story
And I saw it coming all along

So many years I have been blind
Whenever, wherever
I've let you break this heart of mine
And now I have to draw the line

Whenever you're sorry you just make up a story
'Cos you can't admit that you were wrong

Whenever you're sorry you just make up a story
'Cos you can't admit that you were wrong
Whenever you're sorry you just make up a story
And I saw it coming all along

And I saw it coming all along
