

White Flag

Nemesea

Can you feel it, feel it
The wind is haunting us tonight
She will push us, taunt us
Make sure we won't compromise

So all that was made to break will break
And all that we feigned will go up in flames

Wave your white flag, white flag
The wind is haunting us tonight
Time to rip the pages
Feed them to the hungry sky

I am sorry, sorry
The we let each other down
Though it's hard to leave you
I promise not to turn around

'Cause all that was made to break will break
And all that we feigned will go up in flames

Wave your white flag, white flag
The wind is haunting us tonight
Time to rip the pages
Feed them to the hungry sky

'Cause all that was made to break will break
And all that we feigned will go up in flames
Time to rip the pages
Throw them up into the light
Ready to surrender
It's time to drink it down
We'll raise our glass to heaven
Say forever was a lie

Wave your white flag, white flag
Time to rip the pages

Wave your white flag, white flag
The wind is haunting us tonight
Time to rip the pages
Feed them to the hungry sky

Though it was already set in stone
We kept going on

Wave your white flag, white flag
The wind is haunting us tonight
