

All Gold

Nerina Pallot

In a church somewhere
On the other side of town
There's a statue of a man
Rising from the ground
they call him
Battling on his own
In the dust speckled light of the afternoon
All bones

And all gold
All gold
Yeah, they only see the breakdown
But me, I see the king crown
I just see all gold

Oh, this thing don't double six
It sure ain't no better than gold
But I would bet the farm
On him staying in the world
And I ain't got no proof
But tell me now, what did you say is proof
When a love is a dark, some will turn from the door
Hear it howling through the night
Hear
It's all gold
I tell ya he's all gold
Yeah, they only see the breakdown
But me, I see a king crown
I just see all gold

And I've just got this feeling
I've got this feeling
I've got this feeling
It's gonna be all gold
I've got just this feeling
Just got this feeling
I've got this feeling
It's gonna be all gold
(All gold, all gold, all gold, all gold)
It's gonna be all gold
(All gold, all gold, all gold, all gold)

In a house somewhere
On the other side of town
He moves from room to room
All gold
