

A Graceful Light

Neurotech

Before the dawn
There was no understanding
No thoughts were formed
Through ashes and pressure
We found our hidden hearts
Our view on pain and pleasure
Was careless, but nonetheless
The crown of thorns kept flashing
What we've repressed

Engraved tears
In light come clear
A graceful light
Disappears from your face

Disappear into nothing
From nothing to divine sky
Shadows, forgotten rejoice
Hear my voice
Do you remember when we fell
And there was no one
To pick us up
Just embers of our last time
Our last goodbye

We've been here before
And we are here again
Waiting for our darkest hour
