

Goodbye

Neverending White Lights

Moments lost for each other, one life at a time
We disappeared in the moonlight, we laid down and died
No one calling for no one, tears in both our eyes won't run dry until you say

Goodbye [8x]

I'm an endless lover, waiting at your door
She don't leave the light on, she's on to something more
I asked her if she loved me, but she was never sure

Goodbye [8x]

There is a song sung before it all begins
And the saddest part don't come until the end
And your pretty eyes won't help the knife from my heart
Yes, from my heart

Goodbye [8x]
