

Return Our Lives

Neverending White Lights

The right side of my head is always in pain
But the left side of my heart is still the same
She was brave while they took me away
And I asked if she could come back and see

If they'll return our lives

Regrets from the past promises made
Like when we stayed silent for days
Our hearts rise like no one cares
To wait for my love come back and see

Springtime for one day

My saviour complains that he wants more love

I'm out of love
