

Promises smiling faces
Saying you don't understand
Creepy eyes telling lies
So surprised we're not supposed to care

When it all comes down
We are on our own
We're not too young
We're the future of this world
And we've been waiting far too long

Come on speak up we are the ones to choose
Common speak up now
React! In fact we're the golden youth
Common speak up now

Same old song ones again
Is there anybody else who's bored
Such a sight for your eyes
When the lies are revealed
As empty promises

When it all comes down
We are on our own
We're not too young
We're the future of this world
And we've been waiting far too long

Come on speak up we are the ones to choose
Common speak up now
React! In fact we're the golden youth
Common speak up now

They tell us we don't listen
They tell us they don't care
But what chance do we get

Thanks to Elin for these lyrics