

Sincerely

Nevertheless

Once again you compromised
There's no life in your hopeless eyes
But it's just like yesterday
If you listen to what they say

And you feel hopeless
And you feel lost
And you feel hopless
And you feel lost

And you're tired of playing the fool
All your tears can form a pool of heartbreak and hopelessness

You head this life like all the rest

And you feel hopeless
And you feel lost
And you feel hopless
And you feel lost

Open your eyes, dear friend
See that this is not the end
'Cause there's a man before you lived
With the love and power to forgive
