

Sunrise

Nichole Nordeman

If I had the chance to go back again
Take a different road, bear a lighter load
Tell an easy story

I would walk away with my yesterdays
And I would not trade what is broken
For beauty only

Every valley, every bitter chill
Made me ready to climb back
Up the hill and find that

You are sunrise
You are blue skies
How would I know the morning
If I knew not midnight?

You're my horizon
You're the light of a new dawn
So thank you, thank you
That after the long night, you are sunrise

There's a moment when faith caves in
There's a time when every soul is certain
God is gone

But every shadow is evidence of sun
And every tomorrow holds out hope for us
For every one of us

You are sunrise
You are blue skies
How would I know the morning
If I knew not midnight?

You alone will shine
You alone can resurrect
This heart of mine

You are sunrise
You are blue skies
How would I know the morning
If I knew not midnight?

You are sunrise
